New blog encourages neighbors to help neighbors

Barrington, NH: The Mom Entrepreneur announces the launch of its newest blog, New Hampshire Neighbors Helping Neighbors (www.helpingneighborsblog.com). The blog, launched in October, highlights different charitable programs available for NH residents to participate in who want to help their neighbors but are not sure how.

From making a one-dollar contribution when paying your electric bill, to volunteering your time to help seniors weatherize their homes this November, the NH Neighbors Helping Neighbors blog lists small monetary and time donation options.

"In these tough economic times, even the smallest acts of kindness go a long way towards helping our neighbors," said Traci Bisson, owner of The Mom Entrepreneur and creator of the blog. "All NH residents are struggling this season, but the majority still wants to support their neighbors any way they can."

NH Neighbors Helping Neighbors is the third blog created by Traci Bisson, owner of The Mom Entrepreneur a company that offers tips, advice and resources for balancing motherhood and running a company. Enjoying Life with Kids in NH (www.kidsinnhblog.com), a blog that highlights fun activities and the reasons why families with young children should consider making NH their home, and The Mom Entrepreneur blog (www.themomentrepreneur.blogspot.com) are also part of the company's suite of blogs.

Traci Bisson is also the owner of Bisson Barcelona, an image management and high visibility PR firm located in Barrington. For more information about The Mom Entrepreneur, visit www.themomentrepreneur.com.
